An Almanac Of Stories

By

Canadian Military Navigators

Collected By

W. A. (Bill) Hockney & M. D. (Moe) Gates

The 400 pages of this hardcover book holds 75 + stories by navigators telling of their experiences in Bombers, as Pathfinders, on Night Fighters & Intruders, on Coastal/Maritime Operations, and on Transport and Search and Rescue Missions. It opens in 1938, covers the Second World War and subsequent years, including an Arctic flight in a Balloon in 1958 told by Canada's best-known air navigator. There are biographies on all that tell their own story of the times. Lastly, it concludes with some brief information on the decorations that were won by wartime Navigators including one awarded the George Cross.

Amongst the many contributors some of the names many will recognize: Jim Davies, Keith Greenaway, Jerry Wright, Bill Langstaff, Harry Forbes, Jack Watts, Bob Dale, Ron Peel, 'Gil' Gillespie, Bob Bayliss, Bill Boak, 'Sea Level' Thompson, Jim Cross, Bill Johnston, Ernie Butcher, John Goldsmith, Spoof Logan, Ron Button, George Nishimura, George Dunlop, Noel Funge, Doug Munro, Bob McKendry, Bill Ricketts, Norm Donovan, Mike Hache and many others.
